* Because of the reclassification of small hotel establishments in units of local lodging (which are classified outside hotel establishments) during 2012, the number of establishments in the table above shows a strong decrease when compared to 2011.

⁽¹⁾ The number of guests lodged equals the number of guests that entered in the month of reference plus the guests that entered in the previous month(s) and that still remain lodged in the establishment.

⁽²⁾ Maximum number of individuals that establishments can accommodate in a given moment, determined by the number of bed-places on offer. Double beds count as two. The annual value is an average, the same criteria being applied to the establishments in activity.

⁽³⁾ It is obtained by dividing the total overnight stays by the number of bed-places on offer (counting double beds as two) times the number of days of that month. The change rate is in percentage points.

⁽⁴⁾ RevPAR (Revenue Per Available Room) is the revenue per available room, measured by the ratio between the revenue from accommodation and the number of available rooms in the reference period.

NOTE: As numbers are rounded up or down, totals may not always correspond to the sum of the parts.
